"MY SISTER GOODALL"

Francis Waring Robinson

Often we have been asked by the eager but inexperienced searcher after family history, "Where should I begin?" We suggest that he begin with the known and proceed to the unknown; then when he has explored all the available sources of information and is well grounded in the facts, and then only, is the time for flights of imaginative reasoning, which, if tested and found true, may lead to further progress.

Let us take an example. We are assembling a record of the descendants of Peter Copland, who came to Virginia in 1743. His son, who was my great-great-grandfather, Charles Copland (1756-1836), a lawyer of Richmond, Va., obligingly left to his descendants a diary or journal in which much is recorded concerning his own family, his property, his income, and his travels, but he speaks rarely of the Coplands. His mother is not mentioned; his father, only once and then not by name. There is, however, a statement which stirs the blood of the inquiring genealogist; "1806, April: My sister Goodall removed from James City (Va.) to Barren County, Kentucky." What was her Christian name? Who was her husband? Where are her descendants? On two later occasions in the diary (1808 and 1817) Charles Copland traveled to Kentucky to visit "my sister" and "my sister Goodall." The rest is silence.

The available printed records of Virginia and Kentucky revealed nothing further of "sister Goodall." There were many Goodalls in Virginia and of these John Goodall, a Baptist minister in James City Co., who migrated to Kentucky in 1806, seemed the most likely to have been the husband of "sister Goodall." A search of the printed records of Barren Co., Ky., did disclose a number of Goodalls in or near Glasgow, the county seat, one of them a Peter C. Goodall (surely named for his grandfather).

These were the known facts on which we speculated for some time. Then urged by a congenial correspondent, John Goodall Bruce, we addressed a letter to the Clerk of the Court of Barren Co., Ky., which brought rewarding result, first a list of early nineteenth century Goodall wills and deeds, and then, on payment of the proper fees, copies of these documents. Here were many new facts to arrange into a record of the Kentucky Goodalls. In a deed, dated July 14, 1808, Charles Copland of Richmond, Va., conveyed a tract of land in Kentucky to John Goodall and his wife Clarissa, whom the grantor calls "my sister" and thus at last "my sister Goodall" is identified as Clarissa Copland Goodall. John Goodall's will, recorded July 19, 1819, mentions his wife Clarissa, and his sons, Thomas, Edward, Peter C., Lodowick, James, and Turner.

The search goes on from the known to the unknown. We have not yet discovered the living descendants of these Copland-Goodalls. Peter C. and Edward Goodall were early cabinetmakers in Glasgow and this prompted another line of research, a query concerning these craftsmen and their furniture in the November issue of Antiques. There has as yet been no response. But this little digression into the hitherto unknown line of the Copland family may serve to illustrate our point - the fascinating revelations which await the investigator as he proceeds from the known to the unknown.

This then is our advice to our inquirers. Begin with what you know, the information obtainable from your family, from personal interviews, from the family Bible, photograph album and letters or papers. First deal with persons, then with places. Seek out the records, original, transcribed or printed of the localities where your family lived. Record everything you can, checking fact and tradition, making accurate transcription and careful notations of authorities. These are the links in the ascending chain of your ancestral lines or in the widening meshes of your family history. An accurate record, filed in a library or published in a periodical or book, is the enduring monument of the respected genealogist.

NOTES OF THE SOCIETY

On Dec. 4, 1947, the Detroit Free Press featured our member, Frances Brown Chase. and congratulated her on her birthday. We were glad to see this public recognition of her work as a teacher in the Detroit schools and Wayne University.

Frederick James McMurtrie, son of John Henderson McMurtrie and Annie Elizabeth Corner, was born Sept. 17, 1867 in Three Rivers, Mich. and died suddenly of a heart attack on Sunday, Dec. 14, 1947 in Detroit. He had been a certified public accountant in Detroit since 1895. His avocation was genealogy and he had established many of his family lines. A long-time member of our society, he also belonged to the S.A.R. and the Detroit Historical Society. He is survived by his wife, Ann.

Much as we would like, it would be impossible to name all the books brought to the December meeting by Mrs. Elleine H. Stones, chief of staff of the Burton Historical Collection, for use in her lecture on "Some Important Library Materials of Interest to the Society and How to Use Them." But noticing the flurry of note-taking throughout the audience, we are confident that many hitherto insolvable genealogical problems will be attacked with new vigor through the helpful suggestions of Mrs. Stones.

Mr. Martin's tribute to his father and mother in the September-October magazine brought reminiscent letters from other members, Frank B. Lamb of Birmingham, Mich., and Charles A. Wilson of Minneapolis, Minn. An early family interest in Chautauqua was the common chord. Mr. Lamb passed his 84th birthday on October 24, 1947.

Adaline Bourne (Bly) Johnson, oldest daughter of Isaac Bourne Bly and his wife Rebecca (Dailey), was born near Oregon, Ogle Co., Ill., May 10, 1857 and died Dec. 22, 1947, at her residence in Franklin Grove, Illinois, after a long period of failing health. She was married Sept. 24. 1886 to Robert Noe Johnson, a Civil War veteran from Delaware Co., Ohio. He died March 19, 1930. An only child, Mildred Noe Johnson Bryan (Mrs. B.), survives. Mrs. Johnson has been a member of our society since 1939.

Mrs. Charlotte B. B. Chadman announces the birth of her seventh grandchild, Peter Austin Chadman, born Dec. 26, 1947, to parents Lucy Austin and Sylvester Bullis Chadman.

Dr. Bertha Van Hoosen, physician, surgeon and lately author, spoke at the January meeting on "The First Woman Physician." The first woman physician was Elizabeth Blackwell and her struggle to get an education in medicine and the chance to practice it later, made an absorbing story, enhanced by the crisp, terse manner of the telling and the quick, thrusting wit that sparkled through it. Dr. Van Hoosen, an aunt of our member, Miss Sarah Van Hoosen Jones, has herself had a remarkable career in medicine.

We bespeak the sympathy of the society for Mrs. Clarence L. Beavis, Assistant Editor of the magazine, who is quite seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence R. Martin announce the marriage of their daughter, Clara, to Joel Tracy Williamson, Nov. 27, 1947, at Glendale, California. Their attendants were the bride's sister and the groom's brother, who are also man and wife. Joel, a sergeant in the 8th Air Force during the war, now has an automobile business in Mill Valley, a suburb of San Francisco north of Golden Gate Bridge.

ELIAS PATTEE, METHODIST CIRCUIT RIDER

Cecile M. Keister

The life of Elias Pattee is an almost incredible tale and the search that went into the discovery of his travels, his churches and his wives would have sufficed to reconstruct a score of the more usual, family trees. But in the process, Elias Pattee, who began in the mind of the writer simply as a preacher with seven wives, ended up as a man of inexhaustible energy and courage, who preached sermons and founded churches in five states and two countries, fathered a round dozen of children and on the frontier--where women are notably scarce and choosy--married six wives.

Elias Pattee was born in Vermont, Sept. 11, 1784. An old family letter states, "The father of Elias Pattee was a soldier in the Revolutionary War. He settled in New Hampshire, although when his grandfather came to this country from Wales, (having been driven out of France during the Hugenot prosecutions), he first located in Lowell, Mass. Elias had brothers, John and Truman, and one sister Hope."

Add to this, the information given on the brother John in the History of Black Hawk Co. Iowa, "John Pattee was born in Topsham, Vermont 1791. When he was three, his parents moved to Georgia, Vt. and three years later to Essex Co. N. Y. and when he was nineteen they moved to Locking Co. Ohio." 1/

With all this, we still do not know the first name of Elias Pattee's father. But while there is no proof, circumstance and coincidence point to William Pattee as the father. In 1790 William Petty lived in Topsham, Vermont with a family of young children. In 1832, William Pattee of Huron Twp., Wayne Co., Mich., applied for a pension due him as a soldier of the Revolution. Elias Pattee of that same place made attest to the necessary affidavits on that occasion. Also William Pattee organized the first church at Bloomfield Twp., Oakland Co., Mich. in 1827 when Elias Pattee was also active in that same field. Further, Elias Pattee was living in Brownstown on August 29, 1834 when the following notice appeared in the Detroit Courier, "Died, William Pattee, b. 1751, d. 1834, Revolutionary Soldier at Brownstown, Mich. Age 83 years. For many years a soldier of the Cross."

When the William Pattee family left Essex Co. N. Y. in 1810 to go to Licking Co. O., Elias did not go with them. In 1807, he had joined the Methodist Conference and had been accepted as a young minister on trial. That same year in October, he married Belinda Johnson and then "in company with his brother-in-law, Cephas Hulbert, and their wives, he went into Canada as a missionary. The wives rode on horseback and the men travelled on foot. It was a long and tedious journey, but they reached their destination, and performed their duties with great susscess." 2/

According to the records of the New York Conference the young preacher was appointed to the Bay of Quinte, Ontario, in 1807. In 1808, he was at Smith's Creek, Canada; in 1809, at Cornwall; and in 1810 at Augusta. From 1811 to 1822, no mention is made of Pattee in the journals of the conference. 3/ The War of 1812 may have complicated his work and communications but he remained in Canada and probably in missionary work. He was still on the frontier and the family record of the birth of his children shows that he kept going west. When the son William was born in 1815 the family was in Kingston. The third son, John, later stated in his memoirs, "I was born in 1821 in a little Indian Mission, at the head of Lake Erie, Canada." 4/

The conference regretted Pattee's failure to return to them during these years. The report of his work in 1810-11 stated that he was immensely popular in his large territory and had won forty-six souls to the church. And it is from his Canadian friends that came this personal description of Pattee during these early years. He was "large of stature, commanding in his personal appearance, dressing in breeches, stockings and shoe buckles, which costume, with his graceful natural attitudes, set off his portly, symmetrical figure to great advantage; strong in lungs and voice, and although dignified, zealous and emotional. He was regarded by the simple people of those days as a very powerful preacher. Interrogated as to a recent camp meeting, an old Dutch brother said, 'It was a poor dead, dull time and no good was done, till that big Petty come; but with his big fist, he did kill the Devil so dead as a nit and then the work broke out.' The Methodists of that day were fond of the demonstrative."

In 1822, Elias Pattee was re-admitted to the New York Conference and sent to Ohio, to preach in the "wilds of Michigan" and northwestern Ohio. His father and brothers were in Ohio and perhaps he wanted to join them. But more likely he knew by then that his vocation was to the frontier where his powerful exhortations brought conviction and conversion to his listeners.

In 1823, Pattee was assigned to Detroit, where a brick church was building at the corner of Gratiot and Farrar (now Library). To raise funds for this church, Pattee went to New York City, a time-consuming journey of three months. Historians differ as to the results of this trip--some saying he brought back over $600, another that when the accounting was made, the church owed Pattee $2.50. However the church was built and the congregation grew into the Central Methodist Church of Detroit. Pattee remained but two years with this church. In 1826, he was assigned to what was known as the Ft. Defiance district. This district comprised most of northwestern Ohio and southern Michigan. "There was no fixed boundary to his field of labor, it was limited only by circumstance and conditions, which were continually changing, but his efforts and influence brought satisfying results." 5/

There is every indication that Pattee liked the circumstances and conditions of the constantly changing field. But what of his wives? Belinda Johnson, the first wife had died four years after her marriage, leaving two tiny daughters. Within six months they had a new mother, Marcia Fairman. Marcia bore four children in Canada, one in Vermont when Elias was already in Ohio, and a sixth in Michigan. She died soon afterwards. In her fourteen years of wifehood, she had established and left at least eight different homes. While her husband was out on his curcuit, three weeks out of four, she was alone with her brood of small children probably in an isolated cabin with few close neighbors. Frontiers are hard on young mothers.

Of the third wife, unlike the others there are some records. Elizabeth Thorne was married to her first husband, Archibald Horner, a cabinet maker, and living in Detroit before the great fire of June 11, 1805. They received the donation lots granted to the town residents afterwards. Horner died in 1812 and Elizabeth married John Walker. In 1827, again a widow, she married Elias Pattee. 6/ In less than two years thereafter she died, possibly from child-birth when her daughter Elizabeth was born.

Again the home full of growing children was without a guiding hand. Elias Pattee was still preaching, riding day after day through the dim-lit forest trails of southern Michigan on horseback, from appointment to appointment. His two older daughters had married and had homes of their own to concern them. So, very quickly Pattee took his fourth wife, Ruth Bell. Little is known of her but probably her lot was easier than that of her predecessors. From the time that the family came to Michigan, the Pattee home seems to have been located in western Wayne County, as legal records show that Elias Pattee lived or owned property in Brownstown, Huron and Dearborn townships. According to family tradition, at this period the family lived on a farm, the work of which was done by the sons of the family.

Now began the most peaceful twenty years of the hard-riding preachers life. There was much work to be done as Michigan was settling up fast. But unlike the rough lumbermen of earlier days, the farmers were ready to hear the Word. As he grew older, Pattee was listed most often on the conference records as "supernumerary." He went wherever he was needed to preach or to pray. At home the first children were growing up and the new crop came along at a slower pace. And in the end the trees were cut down in southern Michigan and farms lay along every road. The conference listed Elias Pattee as "superannuated." Surely this was the time for the old man to settle down and contemplate his finished work. But Ruth Bell died in 1849. Her successor, the widow, Parnell Howard Flahaven, who became the wife in 1851, died six months later. Elias Pattee was alone in his old age.

John Pattee, the brother, and several of the older sons, had previously gone to Iowa. Through their letters, the frontier was again calling to Elias Pattee. After his wife, Parnell, died, he went to Iowa. Still following at sixty-seven the life pattern he had set long ago at the age of twenty-three, he married almost at once a widow, Mary Bennett, and started preaching and founding churches on the Iowa frontier. The last churchhe founded was at Clear Lake, Cerro Gordo Co., Iowa in 1857. "The first sermon ever preached in Clear Lake, was in 1857 by Elder Pattee, who continued in the service of the little pioneer church he founded, until 1860 when his fervent spirit was called to a Better Land beyond the skies, and his body weary with his labors, laid to rest in the cemetery east of town." 8/ This sounds like the well-worn platitude of the county historian. It is hard for anyone who has followed Elias Pattee through so many churches and so many wives, to believe that he ever wearied or that rest would be heaven to him. A better tribute is his appearance, by proxy, in the various anniversary celebrations of the churches which he helped to found in Detroit, in Ypsilanti, in Perrysburg, in Clear Lake and in the towns of Ontario. As for the wives who bore and reared his children and of whose life only a name and a date remains, we might say with Edgar Guest,

"Who leaves a sturdy son on earth
A noble daughter sweet and pure
Has monuments that long endure,
He needs no shaft to prove his worth."

A TIBBALS-SWADDLE(SWATHEL) ITEM

Contributed by Maude C. Hathaway of Detroit.

Note:- The following items were abstracted from a letter written in 1867 by Henry Hall Tibbals of Greenpoint, New York, to his father's cousin, Andrew Talcott Norton of Centerville, Michigan. The old letter is now owned by Andrew T. Norton's granddaughter, Mrs. Harry Carpenter Gibney of Grand Rapids, Michigan, and was copied by the contributor in the summer of 1947.

"Greenpoint N. Y. July 14/67

Andrew T. Norton Esq
Centerville
St Joseph Co

My dear Sir:

You will doubtless be surprised to receive a letter from me, when my father, your cousin Saml G. should write you from Durham. My home for the last fourteen years has been in the city of Brooklyn. Last week while on an occasional visit to my Durham home I saw a letter from you which was then unanswered addressed to the P. M. wishing to know something of your old friends and relatives .... But I forget the object of my letter: Grandmother - Aunt Esther - still lives, venerable in age (95 CH), feeble of course in body, yet able to go about the house and even to the neighbors, yet she retains in a remarkable degree all her faculties and vivacity of life ..... I will send you a copy of births and deaths I have taken from Grandfather's old bible and elsewhere which may not be uninteresting ..... Uncle Oliver and William Coe are in the old place .... John Clark is occasionally in Durham at Aunt Fanny Camps... Elizeur is well, still works at shoes and hays it in July... Uncle Ashur Robinson is getting to be quite feeble... Gilbert Camp lives in New Haven .. Phineas Ward died in New Haven a year or two ago. Aunt Eunice Heman (Hinman?) lives in Durham and with her daughter Esther (Mrs. Finley) in Meriden.

..... during the war have been engaged with my brother-in-law, T. F. Rowland, a New Haven boy, at this place - Continental Works, Greenpoint - where we built the original "Monitor" that sank the Merimac, and since then they have built the largest and most in number of "Monitors" of any concern in the country. ..... war is over, shipbuilding very dull so we are building a Gas holder... would like to build others and make and ship and erect them for points as far west as Michigan.

Note:- Many of the names mentioned in the above letter may be found in the HISTORY OF DURHAM, CONNECTICUT, by William Chauncey Fowler, LL.D., 1866. Andrew Talcott Norton, who wrote the inquiring letter, was born in Durham, Jan. 23, 1808/9. His father, Lewis Norton, took his family to Ashtabula County, Ohio, about 1812. Andrew Talcott lived in various towns in Michigan, dying in Vicksburg, Sept. 5, 1874. Ebenezer Tibbals was the son of "Joseph and Abigail Theobalds, commonly called Tibbals." He married Submit Seaward, May 23d, A. D. 1754. Their children, as given in the letter, are the same as in the "History of Durham," except that Esther and John are not recorded. Submit Seaward was the daughter of John and Ruth Seaward, the Seawards being among the first settlers of Durham. The names Gaylord, Hall, Rowland, Atwater, Talcott in the younger generations are old Durham names. MCH

BIBLE RECORD FOR JOHN KELLER
Contributed by Mrs. Chalmers A. Monteith of Martin, Michigan.

Note: John Keller's Bible was published in 1875 by O. A. Browning & Company, Toledo, Ohio and London, Ontario. When copied by Mrs. Monteith in 1941 it was owned by his daughter, Nancy Jane (Mrs. Charles Brooks) who lived with her daughter, Barbara (Mrs. George Markham) in Martin, Michigan. Mrs. Brooks has since died.

The above twelve children were intrusted to John and Barbara Keller, Now of Branch County, Michigan this 27th day of August A. D. 1882. Written by Harvey Friesner. Mrs. Brooks says that Harvery Friesner was a cousin. RRM

Mrs. Brooks also has the Bible of her mother printed in German and English, and published by the American Bible Society, New York, 1852. On the fly-leaf is written "Barbara B. Keller. Her Book presented by her Father Jacob Brenneman." Barbara Brenneman Keller was born in Rockingham Co., Virginia and died February 29, 1904 in Sturgis, Michigan. John Keller was born near Reading, Pa. They were probably married near Elida or Delphos, Ohio, for they bought a farm in that district soon after their marriage and lived there until about 1866, all of their children except Lydia being born there. Lydia was born in Branch Co. Mich. and Isaac, Caroline, George, Sarah, Nancy Jane, Joseph, Rebecca, and Lydia were married there. Mrs. Brooks says that her brother Jacob was married in Ohio. She married Charles Brooks Mar. 19, 1882. He was born in Ohio. RRM

The following obituary, a clipping from a newspaper, is in John Keller's Bible.
John Keller died at his home in Noble Township, Branch County, Michigan, May 7th, 1899 of congestion of the lungs, aged 73 years, 4 months and 22 days. Deceased was born in Pennsylvania and settled on the homestead in Branch Co. 32 years ago. His wife, five sons, Jacob, Abraham, Isaac, George and Joseph, six daughters, Mary, Caroline, Sarah, Nancy, Rebecca and Lydia, 26 grandchildren and 4 great grandchildren survive him. The funeral services were conducted in the Mennonite Church in Noble, of which he was a member for over 40 years, Wednesday May 10th by Rev. Lambert of Elkhart, Ind. and was largely attended by relatives and friends. His son Jacob Keller and daughter, Mrs. Nancy Brooks, are residents of Sturgis.

EMMONS-CHAPMAN FAMILY BIBLE RECORDS

Note:- The Bible from which the following record was copied by Mr. Herbert T. Conover, P.O. Box 311, Morristown, New Jersey, was published and sold by Daniel D. Smith, New York, 1829. It is now the property of Mr. Stephen Leek Chapman, Morris Plaine, New Jersey, a cousin of Mr. Conover whose mother was a Chapman. "It is correct," he says, "even to the misspelling of names and words. It could possibly be of great interest to someone or more persons of the Emmons line, as the 'George Emmons was Born 6 October 1840' left home in early manhood for the 'West! He was heard from once when he had reached the vicinity of Chicago but never again." Mr. Conover is editor of the Van Kouwenhoven-Conover Family Bulletin.

128 - WILLIAM MARTINDALE, son of John and Amy, was born at Ginghamburg, Ohio Feb. 12, 1835. In 1857 he went to Kansas where he took up land in the vicinity of Madison. He is said to have brought the first cow to the Verdigris region. In 1859 he married Elizabeth Martin by whom he had two children, (128a & 128b) both of whom died young. Elizabeth died in 1863 and is buried in the Moon Creek Cemetery at Madison. He married 2nd at Clifton, Lyons County, Kansas, Mar. 7, 1867, Sallie A. Maurer who was born Nov. 1, 1845, at Covington, Ohio, daughter of John and Frances Maurer.

William Martindale became widely successful as farmer, banker and politician. When Greenwood County was organized he was elected its first treasurer; he was later elected county commissioner, member of the Kansas House of Representatives in 1865 and 1866, member of the state senate in 1873 and 1876. He was elected delegate to the Republican National Convention at Cincinnati in 1876 (where he was a Blaine man) and at Chicago in 1884. He was director of the Kansas penitentiary in 1878 and 1879. About 1885 the family moved to Emporia.

At one time he owned 9300 acres of land; for forty years he was regarded as one of the big cattlemen of the state and he owned a substantial interest in several banks. He had many friends, but it is said that his trust and confidence in some of his associates was what led to his serious finanical reverses. He was elected delegate-at-large to the Republican National Convention in 1904, and as this occurred after he had lost much of his fortune, it was a source of much satisfaction to him as showing the continued esteem of his constitutents.8/ He died from a stroke of paralysis Nov. 6, 1909; his wife died June 24, 1923. Their children:

128-1 Frances b. 1867 d. inf.
128-2 Walter b. 1869 d. young.
128-3 Roland b. 1870 d. young.
128-4 Howard Fordyce Martindale b. June 5, 1872.

128-7 Annabelle b. 1877 d. inf.
128-8 James Chester Martindale b. Jan. 15, 1879.
128-9 Bertha Martindale b. 1880 d. young.

129 - STEWART MARTINDALE, son of John and Amelia, was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, Jan. 21, 1837. He enlisted in the 110th regiment O.V.I. at Dayton, Ohio, August 1862. His regiment was engaged in garrison duty until it was reorganized in 1864 when it was consolidated with the 63rd O.V.I. and joined the 19th Army Corps under Sherman. They were in the thickest of the fights in Sherman's memorable campaign, which resulted in the capture of Atlanta, made the famous "March to the Sea," went through the Carolinas to Washington and were mustered out at Louisville July 8, 1865. During all this time he never missed a roll-call or failed to respond to a call of duty. 8/ He was appointed orderly sergeant of Co. E. August 12, 1864. After the war he married, Oct. 3, 1865, at Greenville, Ohio, Nellie Baker, born at Greenville in 1843. Her father was a prominent lawyer and legislator, and was first president of the Covington and Richmond Railroad. In 1870 they moved to Madison, Kansas and settled on a farm six miles west of the city where they lived until his death, July 5, 1896. His wife then went to Emporia, Kansas where she died Nov. 30, 1913. They are both buried in Emporia. They had six children of whom five survived their father:

129-1 Edgar Martindale b. June 22, 1866.
129-2 Elveria (McMurray)
129-3 Amy Martindale
129-4 Sallie (Schroth)
129-5 Jennie Martindale

12(10) - MARTIN MARTINDALE was born at Frederick, Montgomery County, Ohio, Jan. 26, 1839. He married Apr. 18, 1862, Rebecca C. Yount who was born in Miami County, Ohio June 4, 1842, daughter of Frederick Yount. The Yount family came from North Carolina. They had two adopted children.

12(11) - SYNTHIA (or CYNTHIA) ANN MARTINDALE was born Nov. 11, 1840 and died Oct. 1, 1865. She is buried in the Polk ("New Light") Cemetery, two miles from Englewood, Montgomery County, Ohio.

12(12) - MARTHA, daughter of John and Amelia Martindale, was born at Frederick, Montgomery County, Ohio, Oct. 1, 1842. She was married to Samuel Jackson, born May 5, 1834 at Akersville, Pa. son of Stiles Jackson. They lived on a farm near Gettysburg, Darke County, Ohio. She died Jan. 2,1873; her husband Sept. 28, 1903; both are buried in the Oakland Cemetery at Gettysburg. Their children:

12(12)-1 Eli P. Jackson
12(12)-2 Emma (Shellenberger) of Wabash, Ind.
12(12)-3 Charles H. Jackson of Troy, Ohio.
12(12)-4 Ellen (Miller) of Pleasant Hill, Ohio.
12(12)-5 Lurena Belle (Miller) b. Mar. 14, 1867.
12(12)-6 Alonzo Jackson.
12(12)-7 Lilly Bird (Cassel).

12(13) - REBECCA MARTINDALE, youngest child of John and Amelia Martindale was born in Montgomery County, Ohio, Marc. 28, 1844. She was married Apr. 3, 1862, in the same county to Eli Yount, son of Frederick and Catharine (Ingle) Yount. Eli Yount was born at Frederick, Ohio, Sept. 24, 1840. His parents were Quakers and his father was a brother of Pres. Herbert Hoover's grandmother. 9/

Rebecca and her husband lived first in Miami County, moved later to Darke County, and after 1871 lived on a farm near Bradford, Ohio. He was a Republican in politics. She died at Versailles, Ohio, Dec. 15, 1823, and is buried at Greenville, Ohio. He died a few years later. They had twelve children:

12(13)-1 John Henry Yount b. May 5, 1863, d. Jan. 4, 1864
12(13)-2 Frederick Lincoln Yount b. Nov. 14, 1864

12(13)12 Ohmer Blaine Yount b. July 28, 1885

Hester Belew-Dunkin and Descendants 10/

13. Hester, daughter of Samuel and Elizabeth Martindale, and namesake of her grandmother Hester Clark, was born in Union County, S. Car. May 7, 1800, and brought to Ohio by her parents, arriving in Cincinnati on her third birthday. On Christmas Day, 1817, she was married to John Isaac Belew who was born in Ohio Aug. 27, 1796. Her husband died some time after 1842, date and place unknown. The family moved to Warren County, Indiana, probably after 1848. There is a tradition that Hester married, 2nd, a man named Dunkin, between 1850 and 1858. Early records of Miami County Ohio show a Dunkin family among the southern Quaker settlers there, so Hester may have remarried in Miami County before moving to Indiana. Hester Belew-Dunkin died Jan. 14, 1888 and is buried in the Mound Cemetery near Pine Village, Indiana. She had at least seven children:

131. Isabella Belew was born Jan. 13, 1819 and was married Jan. 5, 1837 to John Reck, born Feb. 27, 1814. Further information lacking.
132. Samuel Belew was born June 20, 1822.
133. John Belew, born Aug. 27, 1827, married Mamina Woolpert.
134. George Belew was born Mar. 13, 1834 and in 1853 married Nancy Sailor who was born May 18, 1839. There is a tradition that he mysteriously disappeared while in possession of $200 received from sale of a drove of his hogs, some years after his marriage, and may have met with foul play. His family lived near Pine Village and he still has descendants there. His widow died June 29, 1922 and is buried in Mound Cemetery.
135. Elizabeth Belew was born April 12, 1837 and was married July 16, 1854 to Isaac Hollingsworth. She died Sept. 15, 1882 and is buried in Mound Cemetery, near Pine Village, Ind. Further information lacking.
136. Catherine Jane Belew was born Jan. 1, 1841 and was married in 1859 to Samuel Pearson. They lived in McCune, Kansas and have descendants there. She died Aug. 4, 1936 and is buried in McCune.
137. Isaac Newton Belew was born Mar. 9, 1842 and in 1864 married Amy Vantress who was born Dec. 22, 1846. They lived near Pine Village, Ind. He died Jan. 2, 1912, his widow Mar. 11, 1931 and both are buried in Mound Cemetery. Isaac N. Belew served first as a private and later as a lieutenant in the Union Army during the Civil War. They had the following children:

137-1 Isaac W. Belew, b. Apr. 3, 1866, d. Mar. 11, 1875, buried Mound Cemetery.
137-2 Florence - usually called Jonnie - (Watkins) b. 1869, d. 1935, buried Pine Village Cemetery.
137-3 Charles E. Belew, b. Apr. 29, 1871, d. June 8, 1878, buried Mound Cemetery.
137-4 Rosetta B. (Brutus) b. Oct. 12, 1872: address, Pine Village, Ind.
137-5 Cora A. (Roberts) b. Jan. 8, 1884; address, Boswell, Ind. R.R.

Elisabeth Rhynard-Gerrard and her Descendants

14. Elizabeth Martindale, fourth child of Samuel and Elisabeth, was born in Union County, South Carolina, Jan. 17, 1803 and was only six weeks old when her parents started their long and toilsome trek to Ohio. Surviving the hardships of the journey, she grew to womanhood in the Miami Valley, and was married in her early twenties to one Alec Rhynard, who, according to family tradition, deserted her in Alabama. No further details of this are known. She apparently returned to Ohio, and a year or so later married a widower, John Gerrard, who was born in Ohio, in April 1801 and had previously married Mary Duesen (or Dusen) by whom he had two children, a son, Julian Gerrard, and a daughter, Mary (Hiner). John Gerrard, Sr. is said to have been of French origin and his name has been variously spelled Garrard, Garard, Girard, etc. The Gerrards lived for a time in Darke County, Ohio, and later moved to Warren County, Indiana, near her brother, Samuel Martindale, Jr. Here, John Gerrard, Sr. carried on his trade as cooper (making barrels). All her seven sons and her stepson served in the Union Armies during the Civil War, and the step son and one son were killed in battle. John Gerrard, Sr., died June 18, 1861, and Elisabeth died November 12, 1867. Both are buried in the Mound Cemetery Southeast of Pine Village. Her children:

141. Nancy, only daughter of Elisabeth Martindale and Alec Rhynard, was born February 12, 1829. As a young woman of nineteen, we find her in Ohio, assuming the responsibility of keeping house for her grandfather, Samuel Martindale, Sr., after the death of the latter's wife, and writing to her mother in Indiana to send her her personal belongings. This arrangement could only have been temporary, as Samuel sold the home farm a year or so later to his son-in-law, John Enyeart, and it is probable that Nancy married about that time. Her husband was Albert (or Alfred) Pearson who was born December 28, 1829, son of Wilkinson and Elenore Pearson. After their marriage, they moved to Warren County, Ind., where they lived on a farm near their relatives. Her husband died Jan. 14, 1866, Nancy died March 5, 1890. Both are buried in the Mound Cemetery.

QUERIES

1098: M-40: VAN VLECK-COMPTON:- Samuel VanVleck married Oct. 22, 1769 (Family Bible Record) in New York City, Catheryne Compton, dau. of William and Jane Compton. When Catheryne Compton VanVleck was baptized in the Moravian Church, New York City, a note was put in the record that she was brought up among the Baptists of Middletown, N. J. The intestate record of William Compton, Middletown, N. J. date 11-9-1768, mentions wife Jane as administratrix; bondsmen, Richard Jacques and John Wall; witnesses - Sephaniah Morris and Thomas Walker, Jr. Inventory was made by Wm. Applegate and Nathaniel Leonard. A partial list of goods was sold to Jane Compton, Mathias Compton, William Compton, et al. Want to know who was the father of William Compton, the maiden name of his wife Jane and the names of their children. Was Catheryne Compton one of their children?

1099: M-9: WASHBURN:- Wanted parentage, date and place of birth of Richard Washburn (Worsburn) whose will at North Castle, Westchester Co., N. Y. was dated March 4, 1775 and probated March 10, 1786. His widow Amy and sons Joseph and Daniel were executors of his estate. Other children were William, John, Samuel, Jesse, Richard Jr., Philenah and Amy. He was listed Apr. 3, 1749 as a resident of Philipsburg Manor, Westchester Co., N. Y.

1100: M-49: GRAVES:- Information wanted about John Graves of Dansberry England, who came to St. Mary's Co., Maryland in 1719. There were five sons; John Baptist, James, John, Sephaniah and Perigan Graves. Perigan Graves had son, John W. Graves, (other children unknown), who was born Sept. 16, 1822 and died Sept. 20, 1872 in St. Mary's County, Md., and is buried at Mt. Zion M. E. Church, Sandgates near Mechanicsville. Any information on the people mentioned above or their families is needed to prepare a history of this branch of the GRAVES FAMILY in America.

1101: T-10: STUART:- Want names of parents of Ezekiel Stuart who died Apr. 23, 1862, age 76, buried Jackson County, Michigan at Hanover or Horton. Ezekiel Stuart was soldier in War of 1812 from N. Y. State. Would like location of cemetery and inscription on stone if known. Please quote reference in county history.

1102: T-10: STUART-BURDICK:- Want name of parents and age of DORIS (Burdick) STUART who died 1843 and was buried Hanover, Jackson Co., Mich. Doris was the wife of Ezekiel Stuart. Will send interested person names of eight children. Please quote reference from Jackson County Biography.

1103: H-38: CONNER-BOGARDUS:- Want proof that James Conner born April 13, 1797 who married Nancy Correll in 1818 was the son of Helena Bogardus (b. 1767) who married John Conner in 1786. According to the History of Crawford County, Pennsylvania (published 1885 by Warner, Beers & Co. Chicago) James Conner was born in Ulster Co., N. Y. but lived with his wife in Chatauqua Co., N. Y. until 1842 when they settled in Athens Twp., Crawford Co., Pa. (near Riceville). James Conner died June 6, 1883 and Nancy Correll Conner died March 17, 1881. A number of their children came to Michigan. The known children were: William 1819-1899, Henry, James Frances, Abel, Roxanna, Leander Aaron and Winfield Scott. Winfield Scott Conner believed the family to be descended from Anneke Jans Bogardus who immigrated to America in 1630. Would like to prove this whole Bogardus line if possible.

1104: J-5: NOE:- Robert, born in New Jersey, early 1770s, perhaps a son of Daniel Noe of Woodbridge Twp., Middlesex Co., N. J., who had a son, Marsh Noe and may have married secondly, Susanne or Suzanne DePree, or DuPree, (some believe the name a variant of DuPuy.) Robert Noe married Sept. 15, 1799, Mary Tharp Tappen, or Tappin, born 1778 in N. J., said a niece of a famous sea-captain, and related to the Campbell or Allison (Irish?) family from which was descended the mother of President McKinley. Want proof or disproof of uncertainties related above and additional information.

1105: R-17: EGGLESTON:- Would like correspondence with others concerning this family. Have collected many unrelated lines which I cannot now fit into my family.

1106: W-9: WASHBURN:- Wanted, name and address of "R.E.D." who contributed Washburn family material to the Genealogical Department of the Boston Transcript. Would like correspondence on this family.

A N S W E R S

742: C-9: MAXWELL:- The parents of Phoebe Maxwell, b. July 23, 1813; Sussex Co., New Jersey, who was married to Alanson Predmore, on Jan. 2, 1834, were John C. and Betsy (Carey) Maxwell.

772: C-10: COVENHOVEN:- John Covenhoven was baptized April 12, 1719, the son of John Willemse Kouwenhaven and Jacoba Vanderveer. He was married to Lydia Predmore Aug. 14, 1752. They moved to Kentucky. John died sometime after 1756. I have been unable to find any records regarding them since that time.

The writer has a fairly complete record of the Predmore Family, dating back to the early 1500s in England, and of most of the many branches in the United States and would be glad to correspond with anyone wishing to know anything relative to the Predmore family.
